SCIENCE UNDERGRADS WILL HEAR LECTURE

The Science Undergraduate Society will be addressed by J. A. Wilson tomorrow, at 5.10 p.m. The subject of the lecture is "Civil Aviation," and since Mr. Wilson is Secretary of the Air Board he is expected to handle his subject in an able manner. To make his talk all the more interesting, slides will be shown of the Forestry, Enrols and Surveying. All are invited to be on hand in Room 33 of the Fine Arts Building.

President Meikoljoh, of Amherst, was talking about the changed financial conditions that now prevail. "I heard the other day," he said "of a harassed college professor who, in order to make ends meet, decided to take up manual labor. He visited a large building operation and said, nervously, to a red-faced man with a diamond horseshoe in his necktie: 'I am an alien—an ex-college professor; I would like to know if you could take me on here as a bricklayer?'"

The red-faced man gave a derisive snort: "Bricklayer? I guess not," he said. "We might start you as an architect through and let you work your way up

KING COOK JAMBOREE TONIGHT

Uptown Crowds to Have a Treat.

IMMENSE PARADE.

Tobin to Be Crowned Once More Amid Hilarity.

This evening, at 7.30, an immense parade will leave the Union for a tour about the uptown district. This parade will consist of Medical students who are about to proclaim Tobin their King. It will terminate at the New Medical Building, where the actual coronation will take place.

To those who are acquainted with his yearly event no other explanation is necessary. To those who are ignorant—sufficient explanation will be forthcoming this evening, providing they attend this momentous affair.

The coronation is characterized by an immense amount of pomp and show, and this year's Sophomore class have spared themselves no expense and trouble to make the ceremony both impressive and highly amusing.

A very big turnout is expected, as nearly all the tickets have been sold. There will, however, be plenty of room to accommodate all ticket holders.

If there are any tickets to spare, they will be sold at the entrance which will be the west door of the New Medical Building. It is there that the parade will end.

With the exception of Freshmen, all those Medical students who join in the parade are asked to wear their dissecting gowns. The Freshmen will fall in appropriately at the end of the parade.

The parade will leave the Union at 7.30 sharp, and will be in itself well worth while attending.

King Cook, this year is going to be a rare success, and consequently everybody is urged to attend. It will be the last bit of hilarity before the exams, and furthermore, the best for years.

THE RENAISSANCE OF THE CHINESE

Interesting Lecture Given by Dr. Lohead.

Dr. Lohead, of Harvard, delivered the fifth of his series of six lectures at the Presbyterian College yesterday afternoon. He spoke on "Christianity and the Chinese Renaissance," and those who attended left the meeting with the feeling that they were a good deal better acquainted with conditions as they existed in China than they were previous to listening to the discourse.

The speaker confined himself for the most part to a discussion of the work being carried on by the Roman Catholic Missions and of the progress made by them. In this connection he brought out the radical element so evident among the present-day Chinese, who were no longer content with old theories and doctrines, but were constantly in quest of something new.

To-morrow afternoon, at five, Dr. Lohead will give his last lecture, the subject being "Hunan Missions and the Chinese Church."

The Harvard Crimson, Harvard's Daily paper, has suggested some drastic measures with which to correct the evils of intercollegiate athletics. They would abolish, without reservations, Walter Camp's and any other "All-America" mythical team, abolish summer and pre-college term practice, abolish all publicity, eliminate inter-sectional contests, and so far as possible, play opponents of equal strength. Along with the article it was stated that subsidized athletes, professional athletes and the so-called "tramp" athletes can be eliminated from every college if the proper authorities choose to do so.

One of the students of Chemistry at the University of Washington has invented a new cigarette holder. He took a four foot length of glass tubing and wrapped it around a broom handle, making a nice coil. Then he melted a mouth piece on one end, and had a holder that cools the smoke and catches all the nicotine.

MUSICIANS HELD LAST GATHERING

Dinner Marked Final Event of Year.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Prof. Reilly Outlined History of Mandolin Club.

A most successful dinner, held last night in the Union, brought the activities of the Mandolin Club to a close for the present session. Though the gathering was of necessity small through the nature of such an organization, as the Mandolin Club, it was none the less enjoyable on that account, and all those present had a thoroughly good time.

When the dinner was over, Mr. Fraser, the president, brought up several matters for discussion as regards the policy and activities of the club next year. These brought an expression of opinion from most of the members present, and some interesting suggestions for next year's executive resulted.

The secretary-treasurer then gave a report on the club's finances, which proved to be in a most satisfactory condition. All members who participated in the Christmas tour were given souvenir pins, which proved an interesting part of the proceedings.

The most important part of the evening then followed, in the election of officers for next session. R. S. Logan, Science '24, was elected president. S. Stirling, Science '23, Vice-President; A. Naismith, Science '24, Secretary-Treasurer; J. S. Green, Med. '27, Publicity Agent. Prof. Reilly was re-elected Hon. President by acclamation.

Prof. Reilly brought the evening to a close with a most interesting talk on the history of the mandolin as an instrument, and of the McGill Mandolin Club as a college musical organization. Anecdotes of the club in its earlier days, and mention of its former prominent members were listened to with interest by all. Professor Reilly congratulated the retiring executive, especially the President, Mr. Fraser, on the success of the club this year, and concluded with a hope that under the promising new executive it will be equally, if not more successful next year.

MEETING OF STUDENTS AT TEN O'CLOCK

Lectures in all Faculties to be Suspended.

NEW OFFICERS.

Large Attendance Expected at Important Gathering.

The intrinsic importance of the meeting of the Students' Society, which is being held in the Union, at ten o'clock this morning, may be gathered from the fact that it has become customary for the authorities of all faculties to suspend lectures in order to permit the undergraduates to attend in a body. No lectures will, therefore, be delivered this morning between the hours of ten and one, and the opportunity is thus given to every student to make himself thoroughly familiar with the management of his affairs by the Council.

Every undergraduate is urged to turn out and avail himself of these privileges. He will have a chance of meeting the newly-elected holders of office in the Council who will next year be responsible for the guidance of his affairs, and at the same time to register his vote for the choice of several important executive athletic positions. He will hear also the estimates of the year's expenditures.

One of the most attractive features of this morning's meeting will no doubt, to the student who is interested in the personnel of the society's executive, be the introduction of the newly chosen officers, who will then take charge of the proceedings. Among the new officers to be introduced to the student body are Don. Foss, president of the Athletic Association; Matty Dineen, president of the Hockey Club; Dave Johnson, T. L. McCullough, and Sydney Harris. While all these men have held executive positions in the past, and are thus known to a great number of undergraduates, there are many men, especially in the

COMMERCIAL SOC. MEETS TONIGHT

Elections of Officers to Take Place.

The Commercial Society will meet at 8.15 p.m. this evening in the Union. This is not the last meeting, but will be in the nature of a wind-up of the year's work, and plans for a closing meeting will be discussed. This in the past has taken the form of a farewell dinner to the graduating year, to which, of course, they paid their own way.

The election of officers will be held as business of first importance, and an informal discussion of the course will take place.

It is important that the majority of the members turn out for this occasion, for it is only by a majority vote that the new officers can feel confident of the whole-hearted support of the Society.

The meeting will not be all business, but a social half hour will be indulged in following the meeting proper.

MONTREAL, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 15, 1922.

THE STUDENTS' SOCIETY.

The semi-annual meeting of the Students' Society will be held in the Union at ten o'clock this morning. Lectures will be suspended from ten o'clock in all faculties, so with the whole student body in the vicinity of the Union, there should be no excuse for non-attendance. If the number at the special meeting of the Society held recently is any criterion, there should be a large number present to-day.

The Students' Society embraces all the male students. It is their society, and the Council only acts in an official capacity for them. Knowledge of, and active interest in student affairs is absolutely essential. The man who stands back, and criticizes, is not playing the game.

Estimates of the expenditures for the past year will be shown, and an opportunity for discussion will be given to everyone present. Nominations and elections for the offices of vice-president and secretary of the football, hockey and track clubs will also take place. The recently elected officers will be introduced, and the new president will take the chair. Let this morning's meeting be a record one in the annals of the university.

THE JUNIORS.

The McGill Junior hockey team was defeated by the crack Aura Lee aggregation in Toronto last night by the score of nine to four. Had victory come to them, the Juniors would have returned to Montreal as the champions of Eastern Canada. They have played extremely well this season, and although we regret that they did not clinch the Eastern championship, they remain at the head of Junior hockey in Montreal. Whether in victory or defeat, they have displayed the same consistent spirit throughout the year, and deserve much credit for their wonderful work.

freshman year, to whom some at least of the new officers are unknown.

These men are urged to attend this morning's meeting and to become familiar with the officers who are to control student activities during the coming year.

Candidates are to be nominated at this morning's meeting for the positions of vice-president and secretary of the football, hockey and track clubs. As these are among the most important of the athletic associations of the university, it is of paramount importance that these responsible positions be filled with the best men available. The election of the nominated candidates is to take place immediately after, and an exciting contest for some of these offices is expected.

But it is the business of a financial nature that will probably be of the greatest interest to the greatest number of students. The interest shown at the last meeting of the Society by a large body of students in the question of the expenditure of undergraduate funds, seems to indicate that this side of student affairs is receiving vastly increased attention.

At this morning's meeting estimates of all expenditures during the past year will be presented to the student body as a whole, while a report will be submitted of the cost of the activities of the various major athletic societies, with a statement of their financial position at the end of their active season. This is the final meeting of the Students' Society this year, and is the last and greatest opportunity that is granted the student to become cognizant of the way in which his money is being spent and his interests safeguarded.

In accordance with the customary procedure any student may make any motion upon matters appertaining to the university, or demand to be enlightened upon any point upon which he is not clear. A chance is thus given to every individual to participate in the discussion and to broach those subjects in which he is most concerned.

SHOP-TALK.

Plain Tale writers for the Phillips University student publication express themselves in verse:

"May I print a kiss on your lips?" I said,
And she nodded her sweet permission
So we went to press
And I rather guess
We printed a full edition.
"One edition is hardly enough,"
She said with a charming pout
So again on the press
The forms were placed,
And we got an extra out.

CLASS DEBATERS IN CLOSE CONTEST

Arts '23 Win From Comm. '23 in Novel Resolution.

A revival of the old time inter-class debates was held yesterday afternoon, when representatives of Comm. '23 met those of Arts '23 in a debate. A good number of backers from both both classes were present. Both groups are to be congratulated on the efficient manner in which the debate was conducted, and also because they had revived an institution which ought to flourish at McGill.

The resolution read as follows:—"Resolved, that Latin and Greek form an essential part of the University Education."

E. C. Amaron, Arts '23, presided, and the speakers were: LeMessurier and Wells, of Arts '23, for the affirmative; while Mitchell and Winslow, of Comm. '23, represented the negative.

The judges were Prof. Latham, Duncan, Comm. '23, and Van Leet, Arts '23.

After the judges had considered the arguments presented by both sides, Duncan declared that the decision went to Arts '23, of the affirmative. He stated that the arguments presented by both sides were good, but that Comm. '23 had not laid enough stress and emphasis on the word "Essential" in the resolution, and suffered somewhat on that account.

BUILDING OF CHARACTER.

Few of us realize the nature and value of the educational process until we have left the halls of learning to apply our knowledge in the world of hard knocks. Then we can look back and see the innumerable points of advantage secured from our training and can perceive the utility of even the slightest detail which seemed at that time to be nothing more than a time filler or a humdrum procedure.

A college education is a vast and many sided problem. The greatest value received therefrom is not the concrete knowledge derived from a variety of text books but the numberless bits of principle and practical information that one gets from his different associations.

Life is after all nothing more than a continued process of the building of character. Man is a plastic material upon whom is impressed the strength or weakness of his surroundings. A college man if he has any capacity at all and if he is aware of his opportunities, will absorb to a great extent the strong points that are present in the characters of his professors and his fellow-students.—Green and White.

WESLEYANS HELD NOVEL PROGRAMME

Recital in Aid of Ceylon Mission.

SPLENDID HUMOR.

Musical Selections Rendered Were Enthusiastically Received.

Last night, in Ferrier Hall, of the Theological College, an entertainment was given by the Theological students of the above college in aid of missions. The hall was well filled, and all who availed themselves of the opportunity of attending were rewarded by an excellent programme, consisting of dramatic recitals and musical selections. Principal Smyth was in the chair.

Recitals from Dickens by Rev. Allworth Eardley, of Douglas Methodist Church, constituted the greater part of the evening's entertainment, and these in themselves were easily sufficient to make the entertainment a great success. Mr. Eardley has gained ability in the art of recitation and his elocution is beyond reproach, his clarity of speech causing his listeners to hear each word without the slightest difficulty.

His first two selections were from that well known classic of Dickens, "A Christmas Carol," and the contrasts between the hard and cruel Scrooge and his jovial nephew were cleverly brought out by Mr. Eardley. He also gave a mysterious and ghost-like rendering of Little Tim's "God bless us every one," put a perfect finishing touch to this part of the programme.

A touch of the humorous was then introduced by the elocutionist, and his depiction of the romantic sales clerk, Horatio Sparkins, kept the audience continually in smiles or in laughter, the deep and weighty philosophy of the redoubtable Sparkins being particularly well rendered.

Mr. Eardley then mingled humor and pathos by giving several selections from "Nicholas Nickleby," including the satirical school scene, where the beggarly and urchin-like students are depicted as learning botany by weeding the master's garden, and developing other studies by similar methods.

The last selection was distinctly humorous, and judging by the prolonged applause by the audience upon its completion, it was decidedly pleasing to those present. This was the ever-popular speech by Sgt. Buzfuz, in which he so eloquently and sympathetically appealed to the jury in the notorious trial against Pickwick for breach of promise. The eloquence of Buzfuz may have been great, but it could not have been equal to that of Mr. Eardley, who rose to magnificent heights and brought his hearers into convulsions of laughter by his remarkably humorous rendering of this speech to the jury.

Besides these recitations, there were some delightful musical numbers on the programme. During the course of the evening Mrs. Homer Vipond sang four selections, all of which were enthusiastically received. Mrs. Vipond has a fine voice, and showed good ability in the handling of the four pieces, with which she favoured the audience. Miss Marjorie Ramsey, a talented violinist, also gave two selections, showing good technique.

nique and an artistic rendering of her subjects. She received an enthusiastic reception from all present.

The object of the meeting was explained by Current, a Theological student. Current pointed out that an effort was being made to help Rev. J. P. DePinto to return to Ceylon, and later to help him establish a mission in the Maldives Islands. Mr. DePinto is a native of Ceylon, and has been studying in the States and Canada during the past few years, being well known here.

Prof. Caldwell, of the Faculty of Arts, expressed the thanks of the meeting to the artists, who had provided the entertainment, and he pointed out the great value to be obtained from the knowledge of good literature. He also stated that though many philosopher existed during the nineteenth century, that Dickens was probably the greatest social philosopher of them all. Upon seconded this vote of thanks, and Dr. Smyth, with a few words, brought a very successful evening to a close.

(The "Daily" is running a series of pen pictures of the more prominent men in various student activities. These are being contributed by a fellow-student whose several years' attendance at McGill have afforded him an opportunity of making the personal acquaintance of most of the subjects of his articles. While these will be published anonymously, the "Daily" guarantees that no advantage will be taken of that fact to print anything that might injure the feelings of any student or render his relations with the paper less cordial.)

Standing high up among the Little Tin Gods around the campus is the portly figure of Ralph Fitzgerald. Fitz is one of the veteran students of the college, having come with the class of Arts '19, back in the fall of '15. During his stay in the Arts faculty he held several of the executive positions there, notably that of President of his year. One of the features of his early years at the University was the rush field here, when he was at the head of the second year. Fitz found that the Freshmen were just a little too strong in numbers for the successful staging of an open battle, so he proceeded to make plans whereby the executives of the Freshmen years in the various faculties were carried off and kept in quiet and secluded quarters for a few days. When the remainder of the class was also given an enforced rest, the professors complained about the sparse attendance at lectures and the rush ended rather suddenly. However, it was a lively party while it lasted.

Offices naturally flowed in Fitzgerald's direction, and those that he did not turn away from their course stayed with him for a short time. He was President of the McGill Y.M.C.A. before it changed its title and, in addition to numerous smaller offices, was the chief executive of the Inter-Fraternity Council. Since he joined the class of Medicine '22 he has been a familiar figure on all of the committees in charge of activities there, from a King Cook celebration to a Medical Dance or Dinner.

In athletics our Little Tin God has also quite a list of honors. His early efforts were along the line of gymnastic work and he won the Harvey Harvey Cup and the Wicksteed Bronze Medal. He played basketball and class and faculty football, while during the session of 1919-20 he was a member of the senior football team.

Fitz was born in Toronto, but, with his usual foresight, abandoned that city at an early age and settled in the West. He graduated from Calgary High School and came directly to McGill. He took the B.Sc. degree in Arts here before entering Medicine and has been an honor student throughout both of his courses. He is a member of the Alpha Omega Honorary Medical Fraternity. Music is his favorite hobby when he has the opportunity to indulge in it. It has been rather well known in many quarters of the University that Fitzgerald could have had the choice of many student offices had he wished to take them. A member of the graduating class this spring his departure will be a real loss to McGill as far as the student activities are concerned, for he has been a big factor in the success of many of the organizations around the campus.

TO AID EDUCATION OF SOUTHERN WOMEN.

New York.—Southern women living in regions devoid of modern advantages are to have education carried to them by a movement set on foot by Lady Astor and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson.

Lady Astor, who was Nancy Langhorne, has sent her contribution to her sister, Mrs. Gibson. Mrs. Gibson today sent out an appeal to women of the south now living in the north, asking for their support of the project. Mrs. Gibson is vice-chairman of the New York city branch of the Southern Women's Educational Alliance.

The alliance officials say their organization contemplates the awarding of more than 100 scholarships for technical schools; arrangements for loans for needy southern girls, and also vocational courses for girls in their teens.

PEPPYS AT MCGILL

Tuesday, March 14th.—Such a true heat in the ayre this day that I could no longer suffer the burthen of my greate ulster, which I do most usually wear, and so downe to a merchant whose stall is upon Saint Catherine street, there to buy me a sort of brown tunique reaching almost to the knee, and very comely withall. At great pains this day to discover by some means the meaning of the sort of drink called a Jonathon Collins hereabout, and so after diverse vain probings to Mr. Hark, who truly knows all that man may know upon suche things. He then informs me that the Americans did name this drink after the first rebel who was set up as President over their republique, and indeed that it was none other than he who first caused it to be brewed. I sooth I can now manage to regard the rogue with some measure of respect. To-morrow the Grand Meeting of the Students' Guild, and what may pass thereat no man may tell, nor nothing else neither other than that it is like to be right wearisome.

recently published by the Students' Council. It is attractively bound in red and white cloth boards; it is cheap.

But apart from that, it contains all the old McGill songs, and others of McGill association or recent composition. In all over a hundred and thirty, each with a legible and accurate score.

Mrs. Fisk Gave Banquet—Artistic Decorations.

MEDALS PRESENTED.

Successful Year Brought to a Close.

The members of the Intercollegiate water polo and swimming teams, and also the champion Intermediate polo team were tendered a banquet last night at the home of Mrs. Fisk.

The artistic setting was perfect, and much time had been spent in preparing the numerous decorations. The table was in the form of an "M," draped with red and white. At the extreme ends of the arms and at the centre of the "M," were placed the three cups, namely, the Senior Intercollegiate Polo, the Senior Swimming, and the Intermediate Polo. Small polo balls were draped around the cups, while the ball they played their games with was hung over the top of the "M." In the middle of the table was a miniature tank, with a regular polo game going on, players in blue and white and red and white hats, goals, and subs, waiting on the side lines.

The fellows were given dolls representing Varsity and McGill Co-eds, with blue and red bathing suits, as well as cards with a "kiss" or each written on them.

Five medals were presented for first places in the swimming, two going to Jim Ross, and one to Laidley, Scott and Fisk. Manager Caboury was given a pipe, while Mr. Vermet, the coach of the team, received a gift of $100 from the College, enclosed in a pocketbook from the club. The surprise of the evening came when Vickerson was presented with the bathing suit he lost in Toronto, by Dr. Sullivan. It was recovered by Varsity Co-eds, who were captivated by its appearance.

Mr. Hershorn, the presenter of two swimming cups which McGill now hold, was also present. The whole affair was very successful.

OUR IDEA OF COMPLETE ART-LESSNESS.

Stude—Do I understand you rightly, sir, to mean that this report is not acceptable.

Prof.—Correct.

"But, sir, you accepted one exactly like it,"—Cornell Widow.

He—Do you . . . ?

She—Sir!

CONGOS WON FAST GAME LAST NIGHT

Defeated Wesleyans in Basketball.

SCORE 40-21.

Play-off Soon with Presbyterians.

In the last of the scheduled Intercollegiate basketball games, the Congos, defeated the Wesleyans by a score of 40-21. The game was extremely fast and hard-fought, and by their well-earned victory the Congregationists will play off with the Presbyterians in the near future to decide the championship. Some good combination was worked by both teams, the winners, however, were more accurate in their passing, and shooting, and were considerably faster. The pace soon told on the players with the result that first one team, then the other, would show a burst of speed, leaving their opponents standing still. It fell to the Wesleyans to display, on two or three occasions, the best team-work of the evening. Very few of the long shots counted, though Roberts and Moore dropped in several neat ones from near centre.

A good crowd of rooters were on hand, and they were given many opportunities to cheer for their teams.

The first ten minutes of play was fairly even, but after this, the Congos gradually piled up a lead till the final result was not in doubt. They usually seemed able to keep a man uncovered, and by long passes relieved pressure at their own basket, and often resulted in a score for themselves. Sanders was the fastest man on the floor, and was ably backed up by Brown and Moore. Play was fairly systematic for most of the game; when one team had the ball they usually worked it down for a shot, after which the others would repeat the performance.

In the second half the players showed signs of wear, and the wonder is that the speed was maintained. The only change made was Davey for Moore of the Congo.

The line-up was as follows:

Wesleyans.
Defence.
Smith	Smith
Whitmore	Boyes
Centre.
Brown	Robertson
Forwards.
Moore	Kelloway
Sanders	Roberts
Sub.

BROWSING AMONG MCGILL'S TROPHIES

The present article is the first of a series of short ones concerning the trophies now held by McGill. Others will appear from time to time.

McGill swimming teams have rarely lost any meets, in fact, this year's loss to Toronto Varsity is about the fourth ever suffered by a McGill team. Once—in 1913—they made a trip to the States, participating in three meets, at Pennsylvania, Yale and Revere. One of the results of this trip lies amongst McGill's trophies. It is a handsome and large shield, having the following inscription, "Shield won in 1913 from Brookline Swimming Club at Ocean Pier Baths, Revere, Mass." It is a permanent trophy.

The names of the team's members were as follows: G. Hodgson, F. McGill, G. Draper, E. Staver, A. A. Mackay, E. McLean, H. Patterson. The first three were the main stars of the team on the trip, of which McGill obtained two out of three wins.

McGill were both Intercollegiate and Canadian champions that year. Hodgson held all the Canadian records from forty yards up. He also held the world's championship records for the four hundred and fifteen hundred metres. While tucking these latter two records under his belt, he defeated the foremost swimmers of the world at the Olympic games in 1912. McKay, manager of the team, was the fastest all-round man in Canada in his time. He was second to Hodgson at this time in the fifty yards.

Draper was an excellent diver. He also got away with several Intercollegiate dashes on different occasions.

Frank McGill, who is still well-known to followers of the water sport, was the youngest member of the team. He was also a member of the Canadian Indoor Relay Championship team and the Intercollegiate Championship Relay team.

With a "team of champions" it is little to be wondered at when unusual large interest was manifested on the team's appearance at each meet. In Pennsylvania the meet was only won in the last race. McGill had been used to high diving boards, and only low ones were used. This held the score down, making a tie with one race left. That race was the relay—McGill won. No one present ever forgot that race.

At Yale, McGill were again confronted with only low diving boards. This time it cost them a defeat by two points.

At Revere, McGill won the most exciting of the meets, against the Brookline Swimming Club. Hodgson landed three firsts for his team at this meet. When he was at Pennsylvania he broke both the American and Canadian Intercollegiate records for the "two-twenty," one hundred and fifty yards respectively. The relay race again provided a climax suitable to the excitement and interest exhibited. The time, four seconds faster than a similar relay run that same night, by Harvard and Brown Universities, gives one an idea of how speedy these former representatives of Old McGill were. A reminder of their prowess is the magnificent shield they brought back on their return from that trip.

BOXING COMMENT.

Some interesting comments on the boxing meet last Saturday had appeared in several of the American papers. Among them were the following:

The Canadians stood up to their work in great shape, boxing in whether they were overmatched or not. As an indication of the fierceness of the contest all of the first four bouts had to be stopped by the officials before the regular time limit was reached. In no case, however, was any real damage done to a contestant.—New York Herald.

It was notable that the Canadians, whether winning or losing, stood up to their opponents, and did not hesitate to trade in and exchange punches. Their gameness and sportsmanlike bearing made many friends here.—New York Times.

INTERMEDIATE "A" IN FINAL GAME

To Decide City Championship To-night.

The Intermediate "A" basketball team will play the Alerts in the M. A. A. gym. to-night at 9 o'clock. This game will decide the city championship, and a hard fight is expected. Following the example of the seniors, the intermediates, if they win, will not proceed further, but will rest content with what they have. This is not the first time that an M.A.A.A. team has had to play one from McGill for a title, and it is likely they will extend themselves at to-night's meeting.

With the activities fast drawing to a close, a good body of rooters should be present.

The line-up will be:

Forwards — Brown, Hilton and James.
Defence — Schwartzman nad Blumenstein.
Subs. — Scharfe and Amaron.

Liggett's All-Cream Ice-Cream

Ice Cream, when properly made is one of our most nourishing and wholesome foods. Liggett's Ice Cream is all of that and is made under the strictest sanitary precautions from pure cream, best granulated sugar and pure fruits, in our modern day-light factory. HOCKEY AWARDS ARE RECOMMENDED

Many Men are to Receive their "M."

The award of the big and small block "M" to hockey players who participated in intercollegiate games during the past season was discussed at a meeting of the executive of the Hockey Club, which was held last evening in the Union.

The assembly was presided over by "Flin" Flanagan, and after the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and accepted, the main business of discussing the recommendation of awards was proceeded with. For their work on the senior hockey team the following were recommended for large block "M's": Dineen, Anderson, Behan, Flanagan, McGerrigle, Dempsey and Stenson; while Lynch and Kent are to receive the small "M." The intermediates who have earned their small "M" are Davis, Fredericks, Ross, Kelly, Moran, McLean, Stevens and MacNaughton. The record of some of the Juniors is being looked up, and only an incomplete list of those to receive the small "M" was formulated. Among those who will be recommended, however, will be McCall, Joslin and Emo.

Other business considered was concerned with the report of the managers of class hockey, which was very satisfactory. A vote of thanks to Elderkin, for the splendid spirit which he had shown in the management of class hockey during the past season was moved by Anderson and seconded by Stenson. It was also moved and adopted that G. B. Puddicombe, upon the recommendation of Elderkin, be appointed manager of inter-class hockey for the season 1922-23. A vote of thanks was tendered to Charles Fox for the services which he had rendered.

Upon the conclusion of this business the meeting adjourned, it being decided to hold another meeting very shortly of all men who had been awarded their "M's."

M.S.P.E. VICTORS IN DOUBLE SERIES

First and Second Teams Clash with Y.W.C.A.

The M.S.P.E. and Y.W.C.A. first and second teams clashed in basketball at the Y.W.C.A. gym. last evening at 8 p.m., resulting in a victory for both M.S.P.E. teams.

Both first teams played a quick game, which was closely contested throughout. Miss Flannagan was very speedy. Miss Gardner showed up well in the second period. Miss Duff-Stuart played a quicker game in the second half, but missed many of her famous long shots. Miss McCaw starred for the Y.W.C.A., scoring most of the goals to their credit. The Y.W.C.A. centres were also very dependable. Both teams showed some pretty passing, and combination. Score at half time was 23-19 for M.S.P.E., and final score 33-30 for the McGill girls. Miss Flannagan scored 9 baskets and 3 free shots. Miss Duff-Stuart scored 6 baskets. Miss McCaw of Y.W.C.A. scored 12 baskets and one free shot, and Miss Field 2 baskets.

The play was not so rapid in the second game, as though the Y. W. C. A. fought well throughout, the Physical Eds. outplayed and outshot them. Score at half time was 22-7; final score 43-7 for the M.S.P.E.

Miss Harvey, Miss Cartwright and Miss Porritt refereed.

LACROSSE MEETING SCHEDULED FRIDAY

Project to Play Oxford-Cambridge.

A meeting of students interested in lacrosse will be held in the Union on Friday. This meeting is taking place to ascertain if a McGill lacrosse team could be organized to take part in the international games which are scheduled for this Spring.

The combined Oxford-Cambridge team will arrive on this side shortly to compete with various American colleges. Syracuse is sponsoring the coming lacrosse fixtures. Toronto University is supplying a team which will play the English aggregation. Lacrosse is the national game of Canada, and although it is not played as much as in previous years, efforts are being made to revive interest in the sport.

Most encouraging hopes are entertained for the formation of a team when the lacrosse enthusiasts meet on Friday. Mr. Louson, of the M. A. A. A., has kindly offered his services as coach, should a team be formed. Therefore it would be most fitting if McGill furnished a team to play about May 1st. All McGill men interested in the project are urged to attend Friday's meeting in the Union.
